THE DANA CASE

her daughter habel, aged seventeen, was enticed from her home, and she accordingly obtained a writ of habeas corpus and had the daughter brought yesterday before Judge Donohue, in Sueme Court, Chambers. The daughter produced certificate of marriage; but, on a doubt being raised by opposing counsel as to its genuineness, the case was adjourned over till Wednesday to get further particulars on this point.

In the United States Circuit Court (criminal ide), before Judge Benedict, indictments were yesterday found against Julius Molt and Lewis Jacoby, for using counterlett cigar stamps; George A. Mason, for counterfeiting; Charles J. Bishop, for auggling cigars, and William A. Meyer, for murder on the high seas.

THE ELEVATED RAILROAD.

In the application for an injunction by Mr. Baight and other property owners, restraining he Greenwich street Elevated Railway Company from constructing turnouts in the vicinity of Bank and Franklin streets, a decision was yesterday given by judge Lawrence, of the Supreme Court, denying the application. The application was made on behalf of the plaintiffs on the ground that sheir property was being injured by the proposed acts of the company; that the company had no ower to carry out their contemplated extension. they having forfeited their charter in having first adopted a motor not permitted by the charter by substituting a dummy engine for a stationary engine; second, by charging lare in excess of the provisions of the act of the Legislature, and, third, by having failed to complete their road within the time prescribed by law. The Judge-holds that the papers do not show that the company intends to construct a turnout at Bank street until approved by the Commissioners; that the construction of the turnout at Franklin street has aiready been approved by them, and that he is sound to accept the authority of the Commissioners on that point until the company's charter has been declared forfeited by due process of law; that the forfeithre of such charter is not a matter to be accomplished by the interposition of a private citizen, but by action of the Attorney General aving taken no steps to this end on any of the grounds alleged on the part of the plaintiff the Court is bound to assume that the company has a colorable right to exercise the functions conferred by its charter, and, having such right, the Court will not assume to pass upon a forfeiture of its charter on a motion of this character, but will remit that question to be determined by a formal trial in court. they having forfeited their charter in having first

THE DANA CASE. VOLUNTARY APPRARANCE OF THE WITNESS-A

WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS GRANTED. Mr. Charles A. Dana, having heard that an atcoment had been issued by a court in the Disbrict of Columbia to compel his attendance there as a witness, called at the office of United States Marshal Fiske at eleven o'clock yesterday morning. He was accompanied by Mesars, W. O. Bartbett and Willard Bartlett, his counsel, and Mr. Charles S. Weyman. On entering the Marshal's om Mr. W. O. Bartlett said :- "Mr. Marshal, Mr.

Marshal Fiske—I have a writ for his arrest from the District of Columbia.

The Marshal then handed a slip of paper to Mr.
Bartlett. who examined it carcully, and then said:—"We deny your authority to arrest Mr.
Dans under this process, but shall not offer any forcible resistance. We now wish to know whether you take bim into custody or not ?!

Marshal Fiske—I suppose I must.
Mr. Bartlett—Then we want five minutes for him to go before a Commissioner and swear to a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, for which we shall apply to the United Sizes Court immediately.

Charles A. Dana is here present, and if you have any business with him you can now transact it."

At a quarter before twelve Mr. Bartlett appeared in the United States District Court, Judge Blatchford presiding, and addressed the Court as loi-luws:—"May it please Your Honor, I have a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in a matter in which the efficacy of the writ may be less to the petitioner uniess it be granted summarily."

Judge Blatchord—I will attend to it at once—he o'clock.

At one o'clock the parties appeared in court.
T. George Biles. United States District Attorney, clormed the Judge that Mr. James C. Carter, the rivate counsel for the Marshal, was assent from , and, in consequence, he asked for an ex-writ.

Mr. Bartlett replied that he had personal regard for the Marshal and wished him to have the benefit of the best legal advice in the periloss matter he which he was acting. He would not, therefore, object to any extension of time that the Marshal esired to consuit his counsel.

Ine case was set down for further hearing at weive o'clock on Tuesday next. Meantime, by order of the Court, Mr. Dana was discharged until mat time on his own recognizance.

THE TEMPLETON CHILD CASE. There was to have been a further taking of estimony yesterday, before Colonel G. N. Hardle, in the habeas corpus proceedings instituted to determine which shail have the custody of the enild, Willis C. Templeton—its grandfather, Colonel N. C. Templeton, or its mother, ida Maud Templeton. There was a large crowd present and, as on previous occasions, Colonel Templeton was represented by Mr. John D. Townsend and Mrs. Templeton by ex-Judge Busteed. Annie T. Kenney was the first witness called. She had got so far as to state that in 1870 Mrs. Ida Maud Templeton and her mother boarded with aer in West Twelfth street, when a controversy arose between counsel as to answering an inquiry which of the two engaged board and what was the conversation at the time. Mr. Busteed ramified off into the wildly discursive, and Mr. Townsend gave a marial picture of the alleged career of the two women at this time. Suddenly Mr. Busteed grabbed up his hat and rashed out of the room, and all wondered at the cause of his disappearance. It was quickly explained.

"I have seen Judge Bonohue in his private room," he announced on his return. "He has given me the option of having the testimony taken now, subject to his revissi on Monday, or stop the examination here. I prefer (throwing his head back in a decided manner) the examination should have the country of the care may be a seen of the so for as to state that in 1870 Mrs. Ida Maud Tem-

Word. Mr. Townsend therenpon picked up his hat and gushed off to the Judge's room. He came back in a winking and said that Judge Donosne had told him he was in favor of admixing the testimony, but at Mr. Busteed's request had directed that the examination be postponed hill nine A. M. on menday. A controversy next arose as to whether the witnesses should be required to be present. "I'll see the Judge about that," said Mr. Townsend, grasping his hat and rushing out of the moon.

"I'll see the Judge about that, too," repeated "I'll see the Judge about that, too," repeated br. Townsend.
"I'll see the Judge about that, too," exclaimed the referce, grasping his hat and following rapidly in the waxe of the retiring counsel.
The final end of the whole matter was that the examination shall proceed on hinday morning and all the witnesses be in attendance.

COURTS FOR APRIL

The number of causes on the calendars in all the various branches of the different courts indicate an unusual amount of business for this mouth, with plenty of work for both judges and lawyers. There are no specially interesting cases awaiting trial, although there are very many involving important legal questions. Scattered here and there is a divorce suit, with an occasional action in crim. con. proceedings; but alongside of the overshadowing Brooklyn scandar they must need "hide their diminished neads."

In the Supreme Court there will be no general term this month, the judges requiring an interval cases argued last term. Judge Van Brunt will continue to hold Special Term, the principal business awaiting his attention being arguments on demurrers. There will be three circuits in session, presided over respectively by Judges Lawrence, Dononue and Van Vorst.

circuits in session, presided over respectively by Judges Lawrence, Donohue and Van Vorst. Judge Barrett wiil preside at Chambers. There will be no Over and Terminer this month, though why does not appear, and particularly in the lace of the well known lact that the City Prison is sulfering from a suitet of inmates.

Judges Curus and Speir are assigned to hold the General Term of the Superior Court. The Special Term will be neid by Judge Freedman. There will be only one Trial Term, which will be presided over by Chief Justice Monell.

In the Court of Common Pleas Judge J. F. Daly will hold the Equity Term, Chief Justice Daily Trial Term. Part 1, and Judge Livermore, Trial Term. Part 2. Judge Loew will hold Chambers. Persons cuiside of the profession have very little conception of the amount of business transacted in the various Chambers of the Court. The ties of the amount to business done may be gathered from the reports as already made up for the last month.

Juage Donohue, in Supreme Court, Chambers, heard argument upon over 500 motions, in addition to disposing of about an equal number of exparte applications. Judge Curris, who presided at Chambers, in the Superior Court, had selore him some 400 motions and expar e applications. In the Chambers of the Court of Common Pleas, presided over by Judge Larremore, about 500 exparte motions. A very unusual thing or a judge and one that cannot lail to meet the hearnest approbation of the profession is the fact that at the close of the term be had rendered decisions in all the cases but one, such is his business despatch, though requiring unwonted quickness of mensal activity, and if a lew more of our judges were endowed with the same quality, the 619 proverb about the "law's delay" would speedily become an anachronism. In addition to the business stated Judge Larremore also disposed of 226 naturalization applications, and etther ordered references or gave precepts in about thirty unsale building cases.

THE TOMBS POLICE COURT. Beigre Judge Smith.

A LOST DIAMOND. On the 18th of March Mr. Oscaur F. Quirk lost a diamond ring valued at $200, and from the pecultar circumstances attending its disappearance be was led to suppose that George F. Meigs had appropriated it; wherefore he had Meigs arrested and arraigned at the Tombs jesterday afternoon. Meigs found a bondsman in $1,000 in the person of Whilard Tompkins, of No. 27 Chariton street. When Tompkins and Meigs left the Court they proceeded to Quirk's office, where they began to abuse the complainant, who had Tompkins arrested and held in $300 call to keep the peace for six months.

LIZZIE STERN'S DEATH.

CONCLUSION OF THE INQUEST AT BELLEVUE HOSPITAL.

Coroner Croker finished the inquest yesterday at Believus Hospital in the case of Lizzie Stern, who died on the reception boat Believus on the 23d of March. Mary Kernan, a prisoner on the steamboat Beilevue, being sworn, said:-I was committed for drunkenness; was on board the Believue to help the stewaruess; on the night of the 22d of March I placed some cotton bags on the heater in the cabin of the boat, and in the morning they were entered it was perfectly warm and comfortable; did not know the deceased.

lows :- I reside at No. 48 First street; I knew the deceased for about two months; on the morning of the 23d of March the deceased woke me up and said. "Addie, get up and go with me to the Pilta street station house, for I am sick ;" I got up and took the deceased to the station house, which is street station house, for I am sick;" I got up and took the decelsed to the station house, which is about six blocks from my residence; on our arrival at the station house I stated the case to the sergeant and he telegraphed for an ambulance, which arrived very soon, and she was conveyed to he is viewed to he does he is viewed to he does he is viewed to he is viewed to he does he is viewed to he ment; told the Ductor to make a full report of the case to the Board, and gave instructions that for the present all similar cases should be taken to Bellevue Hospital; it is the duty of the freman or engineer on board the Bellevue to render every assistance and prépare anything that may be wanted; five or six weeks ago pians and specifications for the erection of a suitable lying in hospital were presented to our architect and are now under consideration; I was not aware till then that the woman had been carried from the ambulance to the boat in the arms of Mr. Standish; I think the stretcher should have been used.

from the ambulance to the boat in the arms of Mr. Standsh; I think the stretcher should have been used.

James Thompson, of No. 240 Thir leth street testified:—I am hight watchmanist shock he hast River; about three o'clock on the morning of Mirch 23 i heard the bell ring and immediately opened the door; Mr. Standish was there with the ambulance; ne carried a woman from the ambulance to the boat in his arms; I assisted him a little; it is quite usual to carry patients to the boat in our arms; I think it was about four o'clock when Dr. Murray sent for the medicine; when I entered the cabin i thought it feit pretty warm; I did not receive any instructions about water until the day after the woman died.

The Coroner briefly charged the jury, who retired shortly after four o'clock, and having deliberated for more than two hoors, returned with the hollowing verdict:—

"We, the jury called to inquire the cause of the death of Lizzie Stern, find the same to have died from syncope, superinduced partly from the want of the heartful me lical appliances on board of the heartful me lical appliances on the part of the Commissioners of Charless and Correction, we further disapprove the manner of conveying the patients from the ambulance to the boat, and we would suggest to carry all patients ou stretchers hereafter. We leaf impelled to exonerate Dr. Murray from all blame in the latal termination of this case."
